

I verify that Hans Isakson has had more than 10 years of meritorious service. He started teaching at UNI in 1990.

Hans is a dedicated teacher. He offers help to students and seeks new methods and studies current events to enhance their learning.

He's been nationally recognized for his ongoing research in real estate and urban and regional economics and has publications in top quality journals in that field.

His service duties have included serving as President of United Faculty and as a member of the Advisory Committee for the Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning.