Overview of Faculty Leadership

(from the Faculty Handbook)

The Faculty at the University of Northern Iowa are represented by three governing agents: the Faculty Senate, the Faculty Chair, and United Faculty. All three represent the faculty as a whole and play a central role in the shared governance of the university. All three share responsibility for the protection of academic freedom, the fair and equitable application of policy, the advancement of the university's mission, and the promotion of faculty success.

University Faculty Senate

The principal representative agency of the University faculty shall be the University Faculty Senate, which shall have the power to act for the faculty on all matters within its jurisdiction. The Senate is primarily responsible for issues of educational policy and curriculum.

Faculty Chair

The Chair acts as spokesperson for the established policies and positions of the faculty to officers of the administration, to the press, to student leadership representatives, and consistent with Board policies and regulations to the Board of Regents.

United Faculty

United Faculty is the certified, exclusive, and sole collective bargaining representative for the faculty pursuant to the relevant Public Employee Relations Board ("PERB") orders. It is primarily responsible for issues of salaries, working conditions, and other labor relations matters.

University Faculty Senate Overview

The faculty of the University of Northern Iowa take seriously our responsibility for shared governance, as outlined in the AAUP Statement on Governance of Colleges and Universities. The Constitution of the Faculty of the University of Northern Iowa explains the role of the faculty in shared governance on our campus. Our constitution delegates its functions to the Faculty Senate, as the principal acting body for the faculty. The jurisdiction of matters pertaining to the faculty, and delegated to the Faculty Senate, are documented in Article 4, paragraph 2:

The faculty has the right to be adequately informed about and to participate jointly with the related components of the University in the determination of policy touching all the phases of the University's operations. The faculty may formulate and recommend policies to the President of the University on all subjects of University concern. The faculty shall play a central role in all decisions regarding educational policy and curriculum.

The faculty's jurisdiction is limited when curriculum and educational policy matters lie wholly within the jurisdiction of a single college, as authority regarding those matters is delegated to college faculty senates. Although Senators are elected from within each college, they are obligated by Article 3, paragraph 7 of the Faculty Constitution to consider and represent the interests of the University as a whole, not the interests of individual departments or colleges.

It shall be the duty of the Senate to consider all matters that come before it from the point of view of the welfare of the entire University and the State it serves; although elected from various faculty constituencies, senators shall consider themselves representatives of the best in their profession rather than the representatives of fractions of their larger constituency.

The Bylaws of the University Faculty Senate further explain its function and operating procedures. Specifically, section 5 of the Bylaws outline Senate functions as policy formation, integration, consultation, and adjudication of appeals. The Senate considers proposals for changes to educational policy (5.1), coordinates relationships among the faculty and other University functions (5.2), engages in consultation with university administration (5.3), and arbitrates appeals regarding disputed interpretation of the Faculty Constitution (5.4).

The Senate currently meets twice monthly to consider specific petitions in exercise of the above functions. One of the two monthly meetings is convened with the Senate as a whole, and the other monthly meeting is conducted individually by Senate Subcommittees. Senate petitions, including supporting documents, are publicly available on the Senate website. Senate meeting agendas specify petitions docketed for debate and disposal, as well as petitions on the calendar under consideration for docketing, as outlined in Section 7 of the Bylaws, explaining Senate procedures. These meetings are conducted according to Robert's Rules of Order.

The Senate is not principally a fact-finding body, so it routinely delegates work to standing and ad-hoc committees. Such committees are given a specific charter and are expected to provide reports and/or recommendations to the Senate regarding action pertaining to its charter. A schedule and template for committee reports is provided to committee chairs by the Senate Chair or a designee. A committee's recommendations for Senate action are included in a petition according to the senate bylaws. Like Senators, faculty delegates to university-level committees are obligated to pursue the interests of the whole University, not of individual colleges or departments, nor even only of the faculty.

Officers of the Faculty Senate work closely with leadership of United Faculty, the sole collective bargaining agent of the faculty to ensure cooperation, as outlined in our constitution's preamble, regarding matters related to overlapping jurisdiction. The Senate's jurisdiction is primarily oversight of curriculum and educational policy, although our constitution also allows for engagement in a range of faculty concerns, as outlined above. United Faculty's jurisdiction is primarily related to salaries and specific working conditions outlined in Chapter 20 of the Iowa code. Where these concerns overlap, leadership of both the Senate and United Faculty work in collaboration with university administration to seek arrangements that sustain the university community as a whole, including the faculty. These arrangements are consistent with AAUP's 1988 Statement on Academic Government for Institutions Engaged in Collective Bargaining.

Appendix B: Essentials of Robert's Rules

Robert's Rules of Order – the Basics (This sheet should not be a substitute for Robert's Rules of Order, Newly Revised, 11th Edition, but is meant to supplement the full set of rules.)

Parliamentary procedure is a set of rules for conducting orderly meetings that accomplish goals fairly.

- Justice and courtesy for all
- Maintenance of order
- Consideration of one item at a time
- All sides get heard
- The ability for each member to provide input
- Majority rule
- Protection of the rights of all members including the minority

Basic Principles

- All members have equal rights, privileges and obligations
- No person can speak until recognized by the chair
- Personal remarks during debate are out of order
- Only one question at a time may be considered, and only one person may have the floor at any one time
- Members have a right to know what the immediately pending question is and to have it restated before a vote is taken
- Full and free discussion of every main motion is a basic right
- A quorum must be present for business to be conducted
- A majority decides a question except when basic rights of members are involved or a rule provides otherwise.
- A 2/3 vote is required for any motion that deprives a member of right in any way (e.g., cutting off debate)
- Silence gives consent. Those who do not vote allow the decision to be made by those who do vote.
- The Chair should always remain impartial

Basic Definitions

Motion – A formal proposal made to bring a subject before an assembly for its consideration and action. Begins with “I move that...”

Second – A statement by a member who agrees that the motion made by another member be considered. Stated as “Second,” or “I second the motion.”

Amendment – Before the vote is taken on a motion, it may be amended by:

- Striking out words
- Inserting or adding words
- Striking out words and inserting others in their place
- Substituting one (1) paragraph or resolution for another

Quorum - the minimum number of members who must be present in order for the Senate to conduct business. The quorum can be found in the Senate's bylaws. For boards and committees, unless stated in the bylaws, the quorum is a majority of the members.

Role of the Chair

- To remain impartial during debate
- To vote only to create or break a tie (or 2/3 for matters requiring a 2/3 vote) – exception: the presiding officer may vote on any vote by ballot
- To introduce business in proper order per the agenda
- To recognize speakers
- To determine if a motion is in order
- To keep discussion germane to the pending motion
- To maintain order
- To put motions to a vote and announce results

General procedure for Handling a Main Motion

- A member must obtain the floor by being recognized by the chair
- Member makes a main motion
- A motion must be seconded by another member before it can be considered
- If the motion is in order, the chair will restate the motion and open debate
- The maker of a motion has the right to speak first in debate
- The main motion is debated along with any secondary motions that are debatable.
- Debate is closed when discussion has ended or a 2/3 vote closes debate (“call the previous question” or “call the question”)
- The chair restates the motion, and if necessary clarifies the consequences of affirmative and negative votes
- The chair calls for a vote by asking “All in favor?” Those in favor say “Aye.” Then asking “All opposed?” Those opposed will say “no”
- The chair announces the result

General rules of Debate

- No member may speak until recognized by the chair

- All discussion must be relevant to the immediately pending question
- No member can speak more than twice to each debatable motion. The second time takes place after everyone wishing to debate the motion has had an opportunity to speak once
- No member can speak more than ten minutes or as decided by members. • All remarks must be addressed to the chair – no cross debate is permitted
- It is not permissible to speak against one's own motion (but one can vote against one's own motion)
- Debate must address issues not personalities – no one is permitted to make personal attacks or question the motives of other speakers
- The presiding officer must relinquish the chair in order to participate in debate and cannot reassume the chair until the pending main question is disposed of
- When possible, the chair should let the floor alternate between those speaking in support and those speaking in opposition to the motion
- Members may not disrupt the assembly
- Rules of debate can be changed by a 2/3 vote or general consent without objection

Example of Handling a Main Motion:

Member addresses the chair:

Madam (Mister) President.

Chair recognizes member (by title or name).

Member makes the motion.

I move that...

Another member seconds the motion (without recognition).

Second [or] I second the motion.

The chair states the motion and opens debate.

It is moved and seconded that...

Is there any debate? Or Are you ready for the question?

Chair recognizes members wishing to speak.

After debate concludes. Chair restates the motion and puts the question to a vote.

The question is on the motion to...

Those in favor of the motion say "aye." Those opposed say "no."

Chair announces the result of the vote and what action will be taken.

The “ayes” have it, and the motion is adopted. We will [stating action to be taken].

The chair continues with the next business in order.

Common methods of taking a vote:

General consent:

“If there is no objection, we will...” (Pause) “Since there is no objection, we will...”

Voice vote: “As many as are in favor, say “aye.” As many opposed, say “no.” The “ayes/noes” have it and the motion is adopted/lost.”

Rising vote (not counted): “Those in favor will rise. Thank you, be seated. Those opposed will rise. Thank you, be seated. There is a majority (or 2/3) in the affirmative and the motion is adopted.” Or “There is less than a majority (or 2/3) in the affirmative and the motion is lost.”

Methods of Amending

By striking out: “I move to amend the motion by striking out the word “Denver.”

By inserting: “I move to amend the motion by inserting the word ‘Las Vegas’ after the word ‘Portland’ and before the period.”

By striking out and inserting: “I move to amend the motion by striking out the word ‘$35’ and inserting the word ‘$50.’”

Helpful terminology

- Recommendations, bylaws, rules, resolutions, budgets, and audits are adopted.
- Reports are filed.
- Resignations are accepted.
- Bills and minutes are approved.
- If corrections were made to the minutes, the minutes are then approved as corrected.
- Treasurer’s statement is neither approved nor adopted; but after questions are answered regarding any item as reported, it is placed on file for audit as stipulated in the bylaws.
- Motions are recorded as “adopted” or “lost.”
